HON. CALEB POWERS
Who was nominated by an overwhelming majority by the Republicans of the Old Eleventh District for re-election to Congress.

BACK INTO THE G. O. P. FOLD

Mr. J. E. Byrley, heretofore prominent in Progressive party circles in Kentucky, has "come home to stay." He will this year vote the Republican ticket. Mr. Byrley, who is the Eastern Kentucky manager for the Security Mutual Life Insurance Company, was in Lexington today and in a talk with a Leader man, said: "I have heretofore voted the Progressive ticket, and I still adhere to the principles expressed in their platform, but I think that we can incorporate them in the Republican party, and so I have returned 'home' to stay. I wish that every Republican in Kentucky would reflect on the present situation in Kentucky and vote according to what he thinks is right, and for the best interests of the State and Nation. I am sure if he did this he would not be lead astray, and be so foolish as to waste his vote for the Progressive nominee who has no hope or chance of election, and thereby defeat the plans of our Right Hon. Percy Haly. It seems to me like Mr. Haly knew whereof he spoke when he stated that there would be a Progressive nominee to make Mr. Beckham's victory sure. His prophecy is fulfilled, but it remains to be seen whether or not the Progressives will be led by a lot of self-styled Progressive leaders who are not interested in the establishment of Progressive party measures, but otherwise are more interested in getting a letter from the National Progressive headquarters in New York commending them for their devotion to the party, regardless of the interests of the State in which they live and in which they should be vitally interested. Kentucky has its own problems, and the Progressives of New York do not know, nor do they care about things more important than the continuation of party organization. These men seek not to rule, they have no hope of this, but to ruin is their motive. Then why should any Progressive tie up to a program like this is more than I can understand. Kentucky needs a Senator in Washington who will properly represent her best interests and I for one intend to help to elect such a man."—Lexington Leader.

Rev. E. R. Overley at Ruggles Campgrounds.

Ruggles Campgrounds, July 31st, 1914.—Education was discussed this morning in a very able address by Rev. E. R. Overley who is here representing Union College. Campers at Ruggles are always glad to hear brother Overley. They are pleased at the rapid stride he has made in the ministry. All were surprised and delighted with his address this morning. As introductory to this address Dr. Bunton, who is connected with the Conference Board of Education, gave some interesting facts concerning Union College. He showed why our Methodists should support this fine school. Rev. Overley has secured some students while with us who will be found in Barbourville at the opening of Union College for the next term.—[The Daily Independent, Maysville, Ky.]

MORE FROM THE UN-SCIENTIFIC SCIENTIST

Scotty is still learning

San Diego Exposition, July 1914.
Dear Herb:—

Did you get that "logos of ethnons" stuff that I put over in my last? Good—what? I was going to have it printed in Greek, but I didn't have the nerve—and the printer didn't have the type—so I refrained. I looked it up afterwards lest I had made a mistake, but I was right. Ethnology is a sort of a ginny (if that's the way you spell it) expression. It comes from a couple of Greek words—it can't help that, of course—and they mean the study of you and me beginning from the time "when you were a tadpole and I was a fish in the Paleozoic days," as the poet hath it. At least that's a fairly liberal translation of what they mean.

However, I don't intend to spend any more language on that—no sense in lingering upon a subject after one has exhausted it. But I must tell you all about Archaeology, which is in the same class with the other ology. I said they were cousins. They are more than that. Eth and Arch are brother and sister—tho I'm not sure which is which as to gender. But Arch is the study of the relics of the early races of mankind—you might not think it, but it's a fact. I nosed around on the quiet for a while trying to find out. Then I asked the Chief's stenographer what the—I mean I asked her what it signified. She told me that right off the bat, but to make sure of it somebody dug up a dictionary. One of those dinky, near-leather-covered ones that you get for some 19 cents in real money and about 40,000 coupons that you cut serially out of a daily paper. I got one that way once. Got a book of songs too—the oldest songs in the world. The paper said they were songs that never grow old, vintage of the past century, you know. Vintage suggests wine, and—well, anyway, if I had been writing the title on the cover of the song book I'd have said "Songs that Improve with Age." But—as I was going to say when I ran into that open switch—I was agreeably surprised to find that the unpretentious dictionary was a perfectly good book—it said just the same thing that the girl said—minus the smile.

One of the things one never can get back is wasted energy. I figure that I'm out about four dollars' worth, because while I was fussing around with those toms—tomes, I mean—and dictionaries, et cetera (I spell it that way since I broke in to the highbrow class) I could just as well have learned all about the subject under discussion by strolling into the Archaeological Exhibit at this San Diego Exposition and just rubbering. Really that's how I finally did get wise!

You know Baby Eleanor, reading the funnies in the Sunday supplements, has just as much fun as if she could read the printed matter. Me too! I don't need the tomes when I can see the exhibit. Come on in and soak up some knowledge. Some of these subjects seem a little heavy at first, but really its easy to grasp them in this atmosphere. I'm there with the bells on now, old top, and you can quote me with impunity or verbally—either way—and if you don't understand Archaeology thoroughly yet, just ask me for any thing that I have overlooked.

Yours for the archives of mankind,
SCOTTY.

SOLDIERS OF THE SERBIAN ARMY

TRACES WAR TO A CLASH OF TONGUES

Professor Dorsey of Chicago Field Museum Finds Austria's Attitude Sequel to Pan-German Versus Pan-Slav—Contest, He Says, Not Economic but Psychologic.

Nations Are Now, as Ever in the Past, Divided by Language—Source of Trouble Is That Political Boundaries Are Not Coterminous With Linguistic Groups.

(George A. Dorsey, Curator of Ethnology, Field Museum, in the Chicago Herald.)

An orphaned mongrel cur having for the first time in 500 years got enough spunk up to take his tail from between his legs, begins to wag it and feel growing pains. Along comes a great big dog and says:

"Put that tail down—and gimme that bone."

We see this sort of thing nearly every day.

Once upon a time little old Serbia was an empire and very nearly overcame the Byzantine empire, which probably would have changed the whole of European history. There might have been no Turkey in Europe.

That was in the fourteenth century, under the mighty Dushan.

Explains Austria's Action.

Serbia is now a poor, wretched little peasant kingdom—only half as big as Illinois in size, with less people than the city of New York.

And now the house of Hapsburg would wipe little Serbia off the map! Even though the process involve more lives and money than any war of any time!

That is the life. You or I in the house of Hapsburg's shoes would do the same thing. It is the law of existence. Nature works today as in the stone age or when saber-toothed tiger fought the mastodon.

Why does Austria-Hungary, the Dual Monarchy, want poor peasant Serbia? Hasn't the Dual Monarchy, with its internal babel of confusion, enough trouble already?

Why Others Are Interested.

Suppose the Dual Monarchy does want Serbia, what is it to Russia?

Suppose Russia does object, what is it to Germany? Suppose Germany objects to Russia's objecting, what business is it to France—or of England?

Supremacy.

Balance of power.

Human nature.

Life.

I propose to analyze this whole situation. And right here let us clearly recognize the fact—two facts:

The contest is not economic but psychologic in its fundamental nature; psychologic laws are not economic laws.

To put it another way, the desires which lead to action in eastern Europe are not based on Christian ethics or rational procedure, but on certain thoughts.

Things are what we think they are; and thinking depends on the point of view.

Illustrating the Point.

Pan-Germanism vs. Pan-Slavism. If we understand this, we have traveled far. First, let me give an illustrating illustration:

In Prague, an important city of Austria, I was warned that I would get along much better in shops and otherwise if I employed English first. Of course English is not generally understood in that city, but German is. We naturally think of German as the language of Austria, and proud as the ancient capital of Bohemia was once, to all intents and purposes a German city, she now tries to forget, and won't talk German if she can possibly help it.

Pan means united, all; the term Pan-Germanism stands for a movement which seeks the common welfare of the Germanic peoples of Europe at the expense of pan-Slavism or common weal of Slavs.

Becomes Question of Tongues.

Before we can understand the significance of these two movements we must consider the question of the "Nationals," or the "Races," as it is sometimes called.

In fact, this is not a question either of nations or of races, but of tongues. The classification of mankind by tongues is ancient and fundamental.

UNITED STATES WILL PROFIT

Chance to Capture Trade of South America and Other Parts Now Held by Germany.

South American trade, long coveted and sought by American manufacturers, may be thrown open to them through Germany becoming one of the belligerent forces in the European war. That is about the only ultimate benefit that the United States will receive from a general European conflict in the opinion of John J. Arnold, vice-president and manager of the foreign exchange department of the First National bank of Chicago.

"By Germany entering the arena of war the most important competitor of the United States in South America is removed for some time," said Mr. Arnold. "England is a strong competitor for this trade, but the Germans do by far the largest proportion. But Germany with ports blockaded or at least handicapped, cannot feed her immense commerce in South America, Africa, China and other points, and the great chance will have arrived for American manufacturers.

"There is no question but that South Americans prefer German goods. They are accustomed to them, and it would require a great deal to obtain their trade in ordinary times. But if Germany is tied up by war they must have these products, no matter where they get them. They will be forced to turn to England or to the United States."

Magyar and Slav is as strong as between German and Pole.

A few years ago there was no consciousness in Galicia of linguistic distinction between Poles and Ruthenians; Ruthenian peasants were content to remain serfs of Polish nobility. There was no Ruthenian literature; Ruthenian was not a polite language. Today there are distinguished scholars who seek to found a Ruthenian university.

Rouses National Spirit.

And this brings us to a strange and interesting phenomenon that has swept across Europe, now even around the world, in the last half century; the rise of a linguistic consciousness, which in so many instances has sought expression in statehood.

Primitive man knew his enemy as one of strange tongue, and language was the basis of social organization. That was the condition in Europe till Greece, and later Rome, began the game of conquest.

The holy Roman empire gathered these diverse savage hordes under a single government, but never into a homogeneous state.

The modern empires of Germany, Russia, Austria have continued the old game. And the tendency to centralize and build up even larger empires grows apace on the one hand, with the other tendency equally strong for the diverse elements of these modern states to resolve themselves into ancient tribal elements, based on linguistic lines.

Trouble in Barring Language.

And the whole trouble is due to the fact that European statesmen were not far-sighted enough to know that often the easiest way to get something is by pretending you don't want it.

The Polish language was never so dear to the Poles of the kingdom as when Russia forbade its use in public places and for public purposes.

The sympathies of the Roumanians of Hungary are not so much with the flag of their country, or their loyalty so much for the emperor of the Dual Monarchy as for the flag and the king of Roumania.

The case of Poland is probably familiar to all. It is enough here to recall that by a process of dismemberment, which took place about 100 years ago, the ancient and honorable kingdom of Poland, which had had a long and illustrious career, ceased to exist.

Lion's Share to Russia.

The greater part of the kingdom fell to the lot of Russia, with the ancient Polish city of Warsaw as its center.

A smaller portion fell into the hands of Austria, and today forms the province of Galicia, with its two important cities, Lemberg and Cracow.

A still smaller portion, with Posen as its center, passed into German hands.

Russian Poland was permitted to have a constitution of its own from 1815 to 1831, and its own government till 1864, at which time it quite lost its administrative independence. Four years later its government was absolutely incorporated with that of Russia, and the Polish language was denied a legal existence.

Coercion Causes Discontent.

Possibly Russia governs Poland better than the Poles could have governed it themselves. It is conceivable that in the substitution of the Russian for the Polish language (and the two are closely allied) the Poles would have little, if anything, to lose.

It is quite within the bounds of imagination to believe that Poland as a part of Russia could participate in a much larger world than could have been possible to her had she remained Poland.

But it is contrary to human nature to be coerced; it is contrary to human nature to be compelled to give up that to which we have become habituated.

The Poles of Russia naturally have been discontented. They have not been satisfied with their representation in the Russian duma; they are dissatisfied with Russia's treatment of the Jewish question in the kingdom.

Russia's efforts at repression not only double but redouble Polish effort to gain recognition, to win freedom. There are millions of Poles who dream of and hope for a reunited, free, and independent kingdom of Poland.

Frankfort, Ky.—Steam pressure burst an overflow tank in the corner of the State Capitol on the fourth floor over the lieutenant governor's room, the corridor adjoining the senate chamber, and the secretary of state's office on the second floor. The building was almost deserted, but the sound of rushing water attracted the attention of Oscar Bozeman, private secretary to Gov. McCreary and Henry Ware, of the Auditor's office, who rushed up the stairs and discovered the leak. They telephoned the power house and had the water turned off, then assembled a squad of men to bail the water and mop the floors. Buckets and tubs were set around in the two rooms of the secretary of state, and the water was still dripping through. It stained the ceiling in the confederate pension department on the first floor, but did not run through. How serious the damage will be to the hardwood floor, carpets, mahogany furniture and ceilings will be only time will tell. The water was boiling hot. The tank burst with such force that a piece smashed a hole in the tiled ceiling above it.

Prison guards were raised to the dignity of officers and relieved from the "docking" system, when they are unavoidably absent from their duty, by the opinion of Judge Settle, of the court of appeals, who dissolved the injunction granted Guard E. C. Page, of the reformatory, restraining the state board of prison commissioners from compelling him to work seven days the week. The suit was filed to test the law. The guards insisted that the $75, the month wage they received, is for six working days in the week. The commissioners were not unwilling to accede to the demand that the guards be allowed one day off duty, but were not sure the law would permit them. Hence the suit was brought before Judge Stout in the Franklin circuit court. As no appeal could have been taken from his decision, had he refused the injunction, he granted it in order to get the question before the higher court. While the guards lost on their six days a week proposition, they won to the extent that Judge Settle said they are officers of the state, drawing a stipulated salary each month, and that no per diem deduction can be made in their salaries if through sickness or some other unavoidable cause they are absent from duty.

Federation Represented.

Of interest to local club women is the announcement just made by the State Federation of Women's Clubs that it will be represented this year at the state fair at Louisville, the management having offered the Federation a tent, which is to be in charge of Mrs. P. Weaver, of Louisville. Mrs. Weaver will have as her assistants a group of club women from Louisville and other parts of the state, whom she will name at an early date. Mrs. Weaver has made very elaborate plans to bring the federation before the public in a way not before undertaken, and she is expecting to have the assistance of the chairman of the different departments of the federation, each of whom is to prepare an exhibit from her special department. In addition to the exhibition from the various departments, it is planned also to have individual clubs represented, at least those which have taken up some particular line of work and made a success of it.

May Be Given Medal.

Harry Jeffers, of Paris, keeper of the interurban station in that city, is a candidate for a Carnegie medal for bravery. That he risked his life to save the lives of many others to prevent a collision between a passenger interurban car and a freight interurban car, is the story told by the passengers who were on their way to this city. The motorman on the passenger car, seeing that a collision was bound to come, leaped, and Jeffers knowing that unless the car was stopped, many might be killed, went to the post of the motorman. He reversed and was setting the brake when the crash came, but he had succeeded in stopping the force of the car, so that there was but slight damage.

Cattle Bring 30,000.

Harry Weislinger & Son, of Shelbyville, sold to R. A. Long, the millionaire lumberman of Kansas City, sixty-two head of imported Jersey cattle for $30,000. It is reported to be the largest transaction of the kind ever made. In the lot was Pontaine's Chief, a bull that won the championship at the Chicago Livestock Show in 1912, and for which Weislinger & Son paid W. R. Spauld, of this county, $5,000. Thirty head were of mature stock, the remainder consisting of calves and heifers.

Second Installment of Fund.

Ensign W. H. Phillips, of the Salvation Army, of Nashville, Tenn., arrived in Frankfort and will take up the work of collecting the second installment of a fund subscribed six months ago for the purpose of erecting a building as headquarters for the local organization. Ensign Phillips said he also will attempt to collect delinquent payments on the last subscription. It was the opinion of Ensign Phillips that as soon as the second installment is collected there will be a meeting of the building committee.

Use Pool and Gym.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. it was unanimously decided to give the young women of Frankfort the privilege of using the swimming pool and the gymnasium once a week.

The building was almost deserted, but the sound of rushing water attracted the attention of Oscar Bozeman, private secretary to Gov. McCreary and Henry Ware, of the Auditor's office, who rushed up the stairs and discovered the leak. They telephoned the power house and had the water turned off, then assembled a squad of men to bail the water and mop the floors. Buckets and tubs were set around in the two rooms of the secretary of state, and the water was still dripping through. It stained the ceiling in the confederate pension department on the first floor, but did not run through. How serious the damage will be to the hardwood floor, carpets, mahogany furniture and ceilings will be only time will tell. The water was boiling hot. The tank burst with such force that a piece smashed a hole in the tiled ceiling above it.

Prison guards were raised to the dignity of officers and relieved from the "docking" system, when they are unavoidably absent from their duty, by the opinion of Judge Settle, of the court of appeals, who dissolved the injunction granted Guard E. C. Page, of the reformatory, restraining the state board of prison commissioners from compelling him to work seven days the week. The suit was filed to test the law. The guards insisted that the $75, the month wage they received, is for six working days in the week. The commissioners were not unwilling to accede to the demand that the guards be allowed one day off duty, but were not sure the law would permit them. Hence the suit was brought before Judge Stout in the Franklin circuit court. As no appeal could have been taken from his decision, had he refused the injunction, he granted it in order to get the question before the higher court. While the guards lost on their six days a week proposition, they won to the extent that Judge Settle said they are officers of the state, drawing a stipulated salary each month, and that no per diem deduction can be made in their salaries if through sickness or some other unavoidable cause they are absent from duty.

Federation Represented.

Of interest to local club women is the announcement just made by the State Federation of Women's Clubs that it will be represented this year at the state fair at Louisville, the management having offered the Federation a tent, which is to be in charge of Mrs. P. Weaver, of Louisville. Mrs. Weaver will have as her assistants a group of club women from Louisville and other parts of the state, whom she will name at an early date. Mrs. Weaver has made very elaborate plans to bring the federation before the public in a way not before undertaken, and she is expecting to have the assistance of the chairman of the different departments of the federation, each of whom is to prepare an exhibit from her special department. In addition to the exhibition from the various departments, it is planned also to have individual clubs represented, at least those which have taken up some particular line of work and made a success of it.

May Be Given Medal.

Harry Jeffers, of Paris, keeper of the interurban station in that city, is a candidate for a Carnegie medal for bravery. That he risked his life to save the lives of many others to prevent a collision between a passenger interurban car and a freight interurban car, is the story told by the passengers who were on their way to this city. The motorman on the passenger car, seeing that a collision was bound to come, leaped, and Jeffers knowing that unless the car was stopped, many might be killed, went to the post of the motorman. He reversed and was setting the brake when the crash came, but he had succeeded in stopping the force of the car, so that there was but slight damage.

Cattle Bring 30,000.

Harry Weislinger & Son, of Shelbyville, sold to R. A. Long, the millionaire lumberman of Kansas City, sixty-two head of imported Jersey cattle for $30,000. It is reported to be the largest transaction of the kind ever made. In the lot was Pontaine's Chief, a bull that won the championship at the Chicago Livestock Show in 1912, and for which Weislinger & Son paid W. R. Spauld, of this county, $5,000. Thirty head were of mature stock, the remainder consisting of calves and heifers.

Second Installment of Fund.

Ensign W. H. Phillips, of the Salvation Army, of Nashville, Tenn., arrived in Frankfort and will take up the work of collecting the second installment of a fund subscribed six months ago for the purpose of erecting a building as headquarters for the local organization. Ensign Phillips said he also will attempt to collect delinquent payments on the last subscription. It was the opinion of Ensign Phillips that as soon as the second installment is collected there will be a meeting of the building committee.

Use Pool and Gym.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. it was unanimously decided to give the young women of Frankfort the privilege of using the swimming pool and the gymnasium once a week.

Protest is Filed.

The state commissioner of agriculture is in receipt of a letter from the convention of the veterinary association, which recently held a meeting at Hopkinsville. The letter reads as follows: "Hon. J. W. Newman, Commissioner of Agriculture: Dear Sir—We, members of the Ohio Valley Veterinary Medical association, in convention assembled, desire to offer a protest against your present method of distribution of anti-hog-cholera serum manufactured by the state of Kentucky. Believing that this matter is of sufficient moment to the farmers of the state of Kentucky, for whose benefit this serum is manufactured, we desire to suggest that the legitimate method of distribution would be, and should be, through the recognized veterinarians of the state of Kentucky. We further desire from you an expression as to whether or not you will consider the distribution of the serum in the future through these channels; if not, we, in self-defense, shall consider it our duty to use a serum which we know to be manufactured under government supervision, and which we have proven by experience not only to be potent, but also to be so manufactured and so distributed as not to cause a spread of the disease, which we are trying to eradicate. We are further convinced that the present outbreak of hog cholera in Henderson county is due, to a considerable extent, to the injudicious use of the serum by non-graduates and incompetent laymen. Trusting to hear from you in regard to this matter at your earliest convenience, we are, yours truly—G. J. Behrens, Secretary."

The New Catechism.

A well-known doctor of Savannah has two children—a little daughter, aged six, and a small son, aged four. One day he overheard the little girl putting her brother through an examination in Bible history.

"Do you know who the first man and the first woman were?"

"Yeth, I do," lisped the boy.

"I'll bet you don't know their names," pressed the sister.

"I'll bet I do!" replied the little fellow.

"Well, what were their names, then, Mr. Smarty?"

"Edem and Ab!" answered the little boy.—Saturday Evening Post.

"What makes you so late?" asked his mother.

"The teacher kept me in because I couldn't find Moscow on the map of Europe," replied Johnnie.

LESSON FOR AUGUST 9

THE BARREN FIG TREE AND THE DEFILED TEMPLE.

(Temperance)

LESSON TEXT—Mark 11:12-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—"By their fruits ye shall know them." Matt. 7:20.

Event crowds fast upon the heels of event during the days of this most tragic week in all the history of the world. Temperance means restraint and a constrainingly proper use of God given appetites and privileges, hence the significance of this lesson as emphasizing the principles of temperance.

I. Sealing, vv. 12-14. The day following his triumphal entry into Jerusalem Jesus and his disciples journeyed from Bethany, his abiding place, each night, into the city. Seeing leaves upon the fig trees, he had a right to look for fruit, for the fruit of that tree comes before the foliage. But none is found, and Jesus seals its barrenness. His act was a parable in action, Hosea 10:1. Profession has superseded possession, and Israel is therefore to be judged, set aside, until the day when they shall look upon him whom they have pierced.

Cleansed the Temple.

II. Cleansing, vv. 15-19. Entering the familiar scenes of the city and temple, whence the hosannas had echoed so loudly the day previous, Jesus saw its desecration and degradation. Outwardly a delight, it was inwardly deceitful, "a den of robbers," and his anger waxed hot. Everything he saw and banished was in some way connected with the temple worship. Even so the most holy things created by the wisdom of a loving God may become the instruments of the most deplorable degradation. Ostensibly in the name of religion these temple merchants were in reality ministering to self and private gain. As at the beginning of his ministry so again Jesus exercised his authority and cleansed the temple from its pollution and for a time (v. 16) guarded it from further desecration.

The temperance application at this point is very clear. Appetite, mental or physical, is a God given faculty, but must be kept within control. Properly used they are a delight, a blessing to the man and his friends. Allowed to rule and appetites are terrific task masters. Purify the fountain of a man's heart, govern his motive and the stream of his acts will bless all, himself included.

III. Forgiving, vv. 20-25. The next day on the way from Bethany to Jerusalem they again passed the fig tree and it was withered. The disciples marveled at the swift execution of his curse and Peter calls attention to it, v. 21, Matt. 21:12, 20. In reply Jesus again emphasizes the lesson, "Have faith in God." This does not mean that this is an explanation of how he withered the tree, but rather why it had died. Israel was placing its trust elsewhere than in God, and therefore withers from the "roots upward." Notice that the root is not blasted, and a beautiful tree will again blossom forth from the living root. So Israel shall once again spring up into a new and fruitful nation, Isa. 27:6. Jesus' teaching by this tree is an illustration of wherein Israel had failed. They had not faith in God. Faith can remove mountains, and no difficulty can hinder those who have faith in God, Mark 9:23. Faith grows upon the word, Rom. 10:7, yet love is greater, I Cor. 13:2. If we really desire the things we pray for, we shall have them." We not only expect but go beyond in our petition and count as ours the things asked for. The lack of a forgiving spirit will effectually shut us out from God.

Authority Challenged.

IV. Challenged, vv. 27-33. Upon again entering the city and the temple, there came to Jesus the chief priests, scribes and elders who challenged the authority by which he wrought these things, undoubtedly referring to his triumphal entry and to his cleansing of the temple. His reply is a counter challenge concerning the baptism of John. For at least two years John had been dead and his voice silent with a probable forgetfulness on the part of these men, and a decreasing influence of his message upon their lives. Yet the question of Jesus had projected power as he brought John back to them with this question as to his authority, "was it from heaven, or of men?" That there was keen sarcasm and cold logic embodied in his question is revealed by the recorded dilemma of his enemies, vv. 31, 32.

This entire passage deals with the responsibility of privilege. Particularly is this epitomized in the parable of the fig tree. Privilege is emphasized in that the tree was planted in the vineyard of its owner, it lived off of his possessions. Its simple responsibility was to bear fruit. In spite of the patience of the owner and the privilege of its surroundings it perished. The advantage of Godly parents, of Christian society and the heritage of the noble martyrs and saints of the church will not save that man or woman who "has a name to live but is dead."

Seasickness Probably Responsible for Actor's Disposition of Cargo of Potatoes.

The late William H. Smith of managerial fame and Charley Backus of minstrel fame many years ago embarked from San Francisco for Australia on a business venture.

The captain of the boat, who was an intimate friend of each, suggested that the voyagers lay in a cargo of potatoes to dispose of on their arrival there. The "Murphys" were accordingly purchased and placed on board.

Now, Mr. Backus was always recognized as a great comedian, but with the deck of a ship instead of a stage as his rostrum he wasn't so funny. In short, Mr. Backus was seasick. Mr. Smith proved an excellent sailor, and while Backus was stretched out on a chair Smith said, "Charley, in case you die, what shall I do with those potatoes?"

And Poor Backus, who thought he was dying, said: "Go to hades with them."

Cultured Tramp.

There came to the kitchen door of a certain household in Philadelphia a ragged hobo, who took his stand against the doorjamb and gazed longingly at food displayed on the kitchen table.

"You look strong," suggested the lady of the house. "Are you equal to the task of sawing and splitting half a cord of wood?"

"Equal to it, madam?" said the tramp, with a courtly bow. "The expression is inadequate. I am superior to it."

And he went away.

NEW IDEA

Helped Wisconsin Couple.

It doesn't pay to stick too closely to old notions of things. New ideas often lead to better health, success and happiness.

A Wis. couple examined an idea new to them and stepped up several rounds on the health ladder. The husband writes:

"Several years ago we suffered from coffee drinking, were sleepless, nervous, sallow, weak and irritable. My wife and I both loved coffee and thought it was a bracer." (Delusion.)

"Finally, after years of suffering, we read of Postum and the harmfulness of coffee, and believing that to grow we should give some attention to new ideas, we decided to test Postum."

"When we made it right we liked it and were free of ills caused by coffee. Our friends noticed the change—fresher skin, sturdier nerves, better temper, etc."

"These changes were not sudden, but increased as we continued to drink and enjoy Postum, and we lost the desire for coffee."

"Many of our friends did not like Postum at first, because they did not make it right. But when they made Postum according to directions on pkg., they liked it better than coffee and were benefited by the change."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum now comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum—Is a soluble powder. Made in the cup with hot water—no boiling. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

NEW EXPERIENCE FOR BARBER

First Time He Had Shaved Man
Whose Face Had an Equal
Growth of Hair.

Capt. W. V. Lucas, who was an officer in the Fourteenth Iowa regiment, tells an amusing story of an incident that occurred during General Price's raid into Missouri in the last year of the Civil war. The story appears in "Pilot Knob," by Messrs. C. A. Peterson and J. M. Hanson.

"On arriving at Pilot Knob the afternoon before the engagement of the Twenty-seventh, I went into a barber shop to be shaved. Suddenly, when the barber had shaved only one-half of my face, the long roll was beaten. I left my chair instantly, and reached my company, half a block away, with one side of my face shaved smooth, whereas the other displayed a two weeks' growth of beard. I did not complete the shave until six days afterward, when a colored barber did the job at Rollo, 75 miles away. While working the dirt and sand out of the 'long side,' the fellow's curiosity was excited, until he could no longer refrain from comments.

"I nevah see a face befo', sah,' said he, 'dat one side was richer dan de odder; but yo's is, suah!'

VOICE OF CONSCIENCE DEAD

All the Fault of Nurse That Small Girl
Could Not Walk in the Straight Path.

Maria had been naughty and mother seriously remonstrating with her, thought to press home a needed suggestion.

"I can't think why you persist in doing wrong, my dear," she said, solemnly. "It always makes us unhappy when we do wrong."

"But—but I often don't know it's wrong till I've done it," sighed the small culprit.

"But," mother urged again, "you should know, my darling. Your conscience will tell you if you listen."

"What's my conscience and how will it tell me?" wide-eyed and eager.

"Your conscience is the little voice inside you that says 'No!' when you shouldn't do things and makes you feel sorry when you've made mistakes."

"Oh, then I'll never be good!" mourned the troubled sinner. "I had a voice like that once, but nurse said it was indigestion and she gave me some medicine and it died."

His Method, Exactly

The teacher in an East side school was reproaching Tommy, who had "licked" Heine in satisfaction for a grievance. Tommy's penitence was at a low ebb, and teacher's golden-rule admonishing fell on unresponsive ears. But at last she struck a responsive note.

"The right way to treat your enemies, Tommy," she said, "is to heap coals of fire on his head."

"Yes, ma'am, that's jes what I done," said Tommy, brightening. "I give him 'ell!"

An Ounce of Prevention

Most people who enjoy a frequent drink of beer or liquor fail to realize its weakening effect on the kidneys.

Kidney weakness sets up backache, headache, rheumatic pain, nervousness, and disorders of the urine and if neglected leads to dropsy, gravel, and Bright's disease.

In the early stages kidney weakness can be corrected. Doan's Kidney Pills tone and strengthen weak kidneys and are used with success all over the civilized world. There's no other kidney remedy so well recommended.

A Kentucky Case

J. C. Weatherholt, grocer, Cloverport, Ky., says: "I was so bad with kidney trouble, I didn't think I would live long. The pains in my back were terrible and my heart action was weak. I had terrible dizzy spells and my knee joints swelled to twice their normal size. I was a mere skeleton. After doctors failed, I took Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me. I am well and strong today."

The Official Organ of the Republican Party in Knox County.

THE AFTERMATH.

The Primary is now over and the real fight begins, as has been said many times over by all parties. The Progressive party is waning and the good Old Republican party is coming to her own again, as shown by the returns of last Saturday's Primary. The Progressives only cast 51 votes as follows: Wilson, 20; Creech 21; Hurd 10. Some one made the remark that Hurd could not win without opposition.

The Republican vote was light yet Mr. Powers received 1,088 in the county and Mr. Bosworth 260; these added makes a total of 1,438. This gives to Republican majority over the Progressives 1,387. Many of the Progressives called for Republican ballots, but were denied because they were members of the Progressive party. We regret this exceedingly, but we did not make the law and cannot repeal it, but we will all be together in the November election and Kentucky will be put back where she rightfully belongs, in the Republican column.

The Democratic vote totaled 518, which is more than 50% of its vote, but the Republicans fell short by more than 60%. But that is no sign of any shortage in November. We will rally as never before, and when we have won so victory will perch on the Republican banner.

Duty of Charity.

We give most worthily when we assume the worthy use of our gifts. The idle flinging of a coin to an undeserving beggar is not true benevolence; it is a cheap and easy way of buying relief to our own feelings. So to give to any cause which does not wisely and economically expend its receipts is foolish charity. In a word, it is as much a part of a giver's duty to examine financial reports as it is to read appeals for aid.

Pearls and Rubies.

Pearls may be found nearly anywhere in waters inhabited by oysters or mussels. Some of Canada's fresh water pearls have a fairly high value. The Mississippi has also yielded valuable pearls. Rubies have usually come from the East—India or Ceylon—though South America has furnished some good specimens. Oil wells are really excavations into underlying lakes or "beds" of petroleum, generally found on this continent just above the Trenton limestone formation.

Mysteries.

It is a fact that in every man (not in every woman) there lives a lover; a lover who is called out in all his potentialities often by the most insignificant little things—as long as they come at the psychological moment; the glimpse of a face at an unusual angle, an evanescent attitude, the curve of a cheek often looked at before, perhaps, but then, at the moment, charged with astonishing significance. These are great mysteries, of course.—From "Chance," by Joseph Conrad.

BANQUET.

The latter part of last week a banquet was given in honor of Mr. Mnton, the advance man of the factory that has been looking for a good town for his factory. The citizens of Barbourville and the Commercial Club are right behind this concern and will do any and all things to get the factory which we are sure that we will have little trouble in getting. This move should interest all, as the factory we are informed, has a pay roll of about $10,000.00 per month, and will give employment to our boys here at home, and they will not have to leave home to find work, lets all do our part, and not leave it all to the Commercial Club.

HEALTH PAST FIFTY

Careful diet is of utmost importance to men and women past fifty years of age; it keeps up their strength, and the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion is a nourishing food, a curative medicine and a sustaining tonic to regulate the functions.

It contains the medicinal fats of pure cod liver oil and science proves that they furnish twice as much energy as other foods—then too, it creates pure blood, sharpens the appetite, relieves rheumatism, strengthens the body and alleviates the ailments due to declining years. Scott's is free from wines, alcohol or harmful drugs. Beware of substitutes.

LAWN FETE

One of the most thoroughly enjoyable social events of the season was the lawn fete on Tuesday evening, given at the home of Mrs. James Miller by Mrs. John W. Hughes and Mrs. Miller in honor of the four Ladies' Aid Societies of the town.

The lawn was beautifully lighted with Japanese lanterns.

About seventy-five guests were present, including several out of town visitors.

Mesdames May and Archibald and Miss Gertrude Black assisted in receiving and entertaining; Mrs. John Lawson presided over the punch bowl.

After spending an hour or two in gay conversation the guests repaired to the house and thence to the dining room which was beautifully decorated in golden glow and ferns.

The refreshments, which consisted of ices, cakes and mints, were also carried out in the colors yellow and green, and were served by Mrs. John Tye and Miss Charlie Baker.

Importance of Healthy Kidneys

Barbourville Readers Should Learn to Keep The Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins, and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—to frequent passages, sediment or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this advice. It comes from a resident of this locality:—
"Mrs. Mollie Shell, Cumberland Ave., Pineville, Ky., says: 'No other kidney remedy is as good as Doan's Kidney Pills and I gladly recommend them. My kidneys were weak and their action was irregular. I had severe backaches and at times was nervous and dizzy. I felt listless and in the morning, I was all tired out. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me as soon as I began using them and before long I felt stronger and better in every way.'"

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn & Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's Kidney Pills—and take no other—the same that Mrs. Shell had.—Advertisement.

Kentucky Woman, Sufferer From Stomach Ills, Quickly Restored

MRS. BELLE HAWKINS USES MAYR'S REMEDY—"NEVER FELT BETTER IN MY LIFE."

Mrs. Belle Hawkins, Eminence, Ky., was a victim of stomach disorders. She took a great deal of treatment and medical attention.

At last she tried Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and got real results. In a letter telling of her experience, she said:

"I have taken all of the medicine I ordered of you and will say it has done more good than all the doctors and medicine I ever tried. I don't really think I need any medicine now, as I think I am well. I never felt better in my life. If I ever should need any medicine I know where to get it."

That is a typical letter, taken as one among the thousands from the users of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The first dose proves—no long treatment.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucus, acid secretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Go to the HERNDON DRUG CO. drugstore and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing, or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.—Advt.

SPECIAL TERM OF COURT

The special term of the Knox Circuit Court was convened yesterday morning and the Grand Jury went to work in earnest, having been instructed by the court touching the violation of the law, returned several indictments. This morning they returned one indictment for bribery in an election and many more are expected. Judge Sampson has started in to break up the use of liquor and money in elections, and the good citizens of all politics are right behind the Judge. J. B. Snyder, Commonwealth's attorney, was on the job all day yesterday and J. F. Catron County attorney, is in attendance and these gentlemen are working hand in hand and the results are being shown as the Grand Jury returned one true bill against one of the fellows who used liquor in a trustee election. The use of bribes in elections is a thing of the past in the 34th Judicial District.

When you yawn a good deal in the daytime, feel dull, achy and want to stretch frequently it is an unmistakable symptom of malaria, and unless you do something at once you are booked for a spell of chills. BRITISH SOLID FOR INTERVENTION

ULTIMATUM SENT TO BERLIN DEMANDING WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS

England Promises Protection to the Coast of France—Advance of Russian Army Across German Frontier Progressing at Several Points—First Attempted Aerial Attack On Paris Was Frustrated and Driven Back

FLASHES FROM THE WAR

A battle was fought between the German and Russian fleets off the Aland Islands.

The Aland Islands form an archipelago in the Gulf of Bothnia. They have belonged to Russia since 1809.

The Serbians are advancing on Austrian territory, Austria having withdrawn a portion of her army. Bulgaria is mobilizing and Roumania is expected to follow.

Turkey is mobilizing in the hope of furthering her interests.

Two Russian spies have been shot at Hamburg.

It is reported that part of the German Baltic fleet is massed in the North Sea off Jutland.

All Danish troops have been withdrawn from Jutland.

News of the attempted assassination of the German Crown Prince was brought by Lord Winterton.

The Burgomaster of Antwerp announced that the Germans had invaded Limburg, Holland.

A Dover-Calais steamer reports that a French cruiser arrested a grain steamer bound for a German port.

German Emperor ordered Baron Von Schoen, German Ambassador, to demand his passports from the French government.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

St. Petersburg.—The advance of the Russian army across the German frontier is progressing at several points simultaneously. A German customs house has been raided by Cossacks and at Eydtkuhnen a brick engagement was fought, the Russians driving back the German column and occupying the town. It is held by a column of artillery, with infantry supports.

London.—The British cabinet is now solid for war. From a reliable source it is learned that those opposing intervention in the present crisis were Right Hon. L. V. Harcourt, Lord Maresfield, Right Hon. John Burns and Sir John Simon, attorney general.

President of the Board of Trade Burns has placed his resignation in the hands of Premier Asquith, while the others who have been impelled to preserve their opinion by Germany's violation of Belgian neutrality which Great Britain had pledged itself to guarantee.

The first attempted aerial attack on Paris was frustrated when four German military aeroplanes crossed the frontier, flying in the direction of this capital, and were driven back by the Rhine air squadron. From private sources in the house of Commons it has been learned that the British government has presented an ultimatum to Germany, demanding the instant withdrawal of German troops from Belgium and Luxembourg.

Stockholm.—A battle was fought between the German and Russian fleets off the Aland Islands and resulted in the Russians being driven back. The Russian war vessels took refuge in the Gulf of Finland, where they remained. The Aland Islands form an archipelago in the Gulf of Bothnia. They have belonged to Russia since 1809, when they were taken from Sweden.

Brussels.—It is reported here that a division of Uhlans, Germany's crack cavalrymen, was annihilated in an engagement, on the frontier. Two thousand prisoners were taken by the French. All the French regiments at Sedan are reported to have been dispatched toward Nancy, a short distance from the German border. Persons arriving here from Cologne say the Germans have placed rapid-fire guns on the terrace of Hotel Hansa in that city. The travelers believe the guns are intended for use against hostile aeroplanes.

Paris.—With Count Von Schoen, the German Ambassador, and the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador still in Paris, Germany began hostilities against France. Previous messages have reported the invasion of French territory by German troops at Longjumeau, a village of 800 inhabitants near Longwy, and at Bertrambou, a village of 1,000 inhabitants near Cléry Sur Vesouze, in the Department of Meurthe et Moselle. At the same time the important customs station at Petit Croix, six miles from Belfort, was shelled by German troops. The Germans also violated the neutrality of Luxembourg, which was guaranteed by the Treaty of London, signed in 1867 by France, Austria, Belgium, England, Italy, the Netherlands, Prussia and Russia. A troop train filled with troops arrived in Luxembourg and the Government of the Grand Duchy is now in the hands of the German military authorities, who have installed headquarters at the Government house. All railroad and telegraphic communication was immediately cut off. All communication with Germany has been cut off. More than 100,000 Germans here are anxiously wondering how they can get home.

FIRST BATTLE IN THE AIR

Brussels.—The first battle in the air was fought near Nancy between a French aero plane and a German dirigible. Every man engaged in the fight was killed. According to the reports received here Roland Garros, French flyer, sighted a German dirigible shortly after it had crossed the border from Alsace-Lorraine. The dirigible was an enormous affair of the Zeppelin type and was manned by 25 German soldiers. It is supposed to have been sent up for scout duty from the German column which crossed the French frontier at Cléry. Garros, who had been scouting about the territory for some time after news of the German invasion was received, sighted the dirigible at a height of 1,000 feet. He drove his fleet monoplane straight at the dirigible. The huge gas bag exploded with a terrific detonation, followed by a burst of flame. The monoplane, hopelessly entangled in the wreck, crashed with it to the earth, engulfed in flames and without appearing to be able to clear itself from the debris. Garros and the 25 German soldiers were probably dead before they struck the ground. All that could be recovered from the smoldering pile after the flames had been quenched was charred fragments of flesh and bones.

OWES IT TO MANKIND TO HELP THE WORLD

Washington.—President Wilson has appealed to the people of the United States to remain calm during the war in Europe. He declared the United States owes it to mankind to help the rest of the world during the present crisis. The President declared the United States could gain great and permanent glory during the present trouble providing no one lost his head. The President urged that nothing be done in America to add to the excitement of the world.

APPROPRIATES $250,000

Washington.—Plans were completed for the care of Americans in war-torn Europe. Congress, at the request of President Wilson, appropriated $250,000 as an initial step, and will grant more funds if desired. The appropriation will be used in caring for the immediate needs of Americans, especially those without means of obtaining any funds. Americans who have letters of credit and travelers' checks, or other forms of money credit, will be assisted by American embassies in having them cashed. Instructions were issued to American diplomatic officers to issue "ambassadors' orders" in exchange for letters of credit, bank checks or money orders.

MEETING OF AMERICANS

London.—Americans marooned in London held a monster meeting in the Waldorf hotel, the 2,000 who attended overflowing the hotel steps and sidewalks. Ambassador Page's absence from the meeting brought severe criticism upon him. Many demanded to know whether the ambassador had been invited, and upon receiving an affirmative reply, booed the suggestion that he was working in their interest.

TRANSPORTS MAY BE SENT.

Washington.—Active measures for the relief of many thousands of Americans in distress in Europe for lack of money or means to return home have been begun by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. The administration has under consideration sending army and navy transports to carry American refugees and a special request to congress for an appropriation is expected to be made.

ROADS GIVEN RAISE

CENTRAL CARRIERS GRANTED FIVE PER CENT ADVANCE BY COMMERCE BODY.

MINORITY OPINION ENTERED

All Lines Win From Buffalo-Pittsburgh to Mississippi—Additional Passenger Revenue Is Recommended by Federal Commission.

SYNOPSIS OF DECISION.

Commission orders rate increases in territory north of Ohio and Potomac rivers and from a vertical line drawn through Buffalo and Pittsburgh, west to Mississippi river.

Advances east from Buffalo and Pittsburgh along Atlantic seaboard are denied.

In territory affected all class rates are increased five per cent and many commodity rates are increased also.

Commission acknowledges railroads are entitled to higher passenger rates.

Result of decision is that railroads affected will increase their income 1 1/2 per cent.

No increase is permitted on coal, coke, brick, tile, clay, starch, cement, iron ore and plaster.

Lake and rail rates remain unchanged.

General development of transportation system approved.

Washington, Aug. 4.—An increase of certain freight rates by the railroads between the Mississippi and Buffalo and Pittsburgh is allowed by the interstate commerce commission in its decision made public on Saturday. This is known as Central Freight association territory.

The five per cent increase of charges asked by the railroad east of Buffalo and Pittsburgh in trunk line territory and New England territory is disallowed.

No increases were granted on lake and rail rates.

All class rates within the Central Freight association territory were advanced five per cent. Commodity rates got a like advance, excepting coal, coke, brick, tile, clay, starch, cement, iron ore and plaster.

The commodities upon which no advances were allowed compose approximately 35 per cent of the total volume of traffic in the Central territory.

The new rates are expected to increase the incomes of the railroads approximately 1 1/2 per cent. All the principal east and west systems will benefit by the increases, as their lines traverse the territory affected.

Commissioners McChord and Daniels at the last moment gave a dissenting opinion.

Commissioner McChord held no difference should have been made between the territories east and west of Pittsburgh and Buffalo. Commissioner Daniels held that a five per cent increase should have been granted generally.

The increases allowed on class and commodity rates to the railroads in Central Freight association territory may, in the readjustment of the schedules prescribed by the commission, average even higher than the five per cent mentioned.

The dissenting opinion of Commissioner Daniels is said to represent closely the views which the president hoped would prevail in the commission. It is expected that the western railroads now will apply for rate advances.

BIG BANK MEET AT GOTHAM

McAdoo and Bankers Discuss Financial Situation—Clearing House Certificates May Be Issued.

New York, Aug. 4.—Probably one of the most significant banking conferences ever held in America took place at the Vanderbilt hotel here on Sunday night. It was attended by William G. McAdoo, secretary of the United States treasury; John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency; J. P. Morgan and the heads of more than a dozen of the largest national banks and trust companies in New York. As a result of the conference it is expected that clearing house certificates will be issued both in New York and other banking centers to be used by banks as a medium for settling their balances to each other and strengthening their reserves, which Saturday's bank statement showed were about seventeen million dollars under the legal requirement.

Caillaux Slain, Is Rumor.

London, Aug. 4.—It is rumored in France, that the seventeen-year-old son of Gaston Calmette has murdered Joseph Caillaux, whose wife killed his father. Confirmation of the rumor is impossible so far.

German Team Is Eliminated.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 3.—The Australian tennis team, Wilding and Brookers, eliminated the Germans, Fretzheim and Kreuzer, from the Davis cup competition when they defeated them in the doubles match.

AMERICA READY TO HELP REST OF THE WORLD

President Wilson Says It Is Prepared for Every Emergency.

MUST GIVE FOOD SURPLUS

Coastwise Vessels May Be Diverted for European Traffic—Proclamation of Neutrality Will Be Issued Soon From Washington.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The United States is preparing for every emergency caused by the European war, President Wilson told his callers. There is no cause for excitement, he added.

"We must act together as Americans, and see that America does not suffer," he stated. He said that the war need not affect the United States in the long run.

The present condition of the United States is sound and she owes it to the world to keep her self-possession, continued the president. He would take pride in whatever calmness of thought and steadiness of purpose the nation showed in the present crisis.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo sent word to the White House that there was no cause for alarm and no element of unsoundness in the situation, the president stated. He said the country owed it to the world to give Europe our surplus of foodstuffs in an effort to alleviate the suffering due to the war.

May Divert Coastwise Ships.

The question of diverting coastwise ships, including sailing vessels, to the Atlantic trade, has been discussed, the president said, but no decision has been reached. The president continued that probably many of the coastwise ships, such as the fruit carrying vessels, would prove suitable for European traffic.

A proclamation of neutrality will be issued by the United States in the near future, the president told his callers.

He stated that the organization of the federal reserve board would help the domestic situation, and added that Secretary McAdoo had sent him word from New York that the banking situation there was encouraging. He also told his callers that McAdoo was doing all he could to help American tourists in Europe to get back home, but that no definite steps had been determined upon.

The war situation will have no effect upon the date of adjournment of congress, the president told his callers.

"Don't Add to Excitement."

President Wilson spoke as follows concerning the war situation at his conference with the newspaper men: "Gentlemen, before you question me, I want to say this: I believe it is really unnecessary, but I always want to tell you what is in my mind. It is extremely necessary, it is manifestly necessary in the present state of affairs on the other side of the waters, that you should be extremely careful not to add to the excitement in any way."

"Europe is in a highly excited state of mind, but the excitement ought not to spread to this country. So far as we are concerned, there is no cause for excitement. There is great inconvenience for the time being, in the money market and in our exchanges, and temporarily in handling of our crops, but America is absolutely prepared to meet the financial situation and to straighten everything out without any material difficulty. The only thing that can possibly prevent it is unreasonable apprehension and excitement."

Warns Against Rumors.

"If I might make a suggestion to you, gentlemen, therefore, I would urge you not to give current to any unverified rumors or to anything that would tend to create or add to excitement. I think that you will agree that we must all at the present moment act together as Americans in seeing that America does not suffer any unnecessary distress from what is going on in the world at large."

"The situation in Europe is perhaps the greatest in its possibilities that has arisen in modern times, but it need not affect the United States unfavorably in the long run. Not that the United States has anything to take advantage of, but her own position is sound, and she owes it to mankind to remain in such a condition and such a state of mind that she can help the rest of mankind."

"I want to have the pride of stating that America, if nobody else, has her self-possession and stands ready with calmness of thought and steadiness of purpose to help the rest of the world. And we can do it and reap great permanent glory out of doing it, providing we all co-operate to see that nobody loses his head."

PRECAUTION TAKEN

EFFECT OF GENERAL WAR CERTAIN TO BE FELT IN THE UNITED STATES.

Financiers Are Citing Experience of Earing Failure in Connection With Possible Result of Upheaval.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

New York.—Even if diplomacy and finance and other influences are able to prevent the war spirit spreading yet it is the belief of the financial district that there will be sure to follow serious and perhaps grievous demoralization, which may by and by affect our own financial and commercial market. Comparison has been made with the experience world-wide which for nearly two years was consequent upon the failure of the Baring Brothers, of London. The Bank of England came to the rescue of the immediate situation. The powerful influence of the bank stayed the financial cyclone which began immediately after the announcement of the failure. Solvent houses were protected and general bankruptcy was prevented.

Yet the effects of the failure were noticeable throughout the world. They contributed in no small degree to our own currency famine which began soon after the second inauguration of Grover Cleveland as president. It is presumed that something of this kind will be observed, even though peaceful conditions be speedily restored on the continent of Europe. Presumably hoarding will begin. In Europe it will be impossible to estimate the extent of the commercial demoralization and stagnation which will be sure to be observed for some months.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION AT BLUEGRASS FAIR

KENTUCKY'S GREAT AGRICULTURAL AND LIVE STOCK EXPOSITION HELD.

HORSE SHOW IS A FEATURE

The Heart of the Blue Grass Region and in the Center of Fine Breeding Section.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Lexington, Ky.—The Bluegrass fair, the great agricultural live stock exposition, and the annual social and amusement event of Central Kentucky, was held here through the week. Situated at Lexington is, in the heart of the Bluegrass region, the center of the fine live stock breeding section of the United States, and in the midst of a more diversified and fruitful agricultural activity than perhaps any other part of the country, the Bluegrass fair is an institution peculiar to itself and is typical of the Bluegrass region of Kentucky. The preliminary entries for the exhibitions and the inquiries received indicated that the fair would be the great success it was, the greatest and most largely attended by any of the series, which has extended through many years. The features of the horse show were rings for three and five-gaited saddle horses, roadsters and fine harness horses, while among the races was the $1,000 stake for 2-year-old trotters. Tuesday was the time of the exhibitions of mules, Hereford cattle, Tamworth and Hampshire hogs and Shropshire sheep, in addition to the rings for breeding classes for saddle horses, including a $1,000 stake for sucklings; roadsters, fine and heavy harness horses, five and three-gaited saddle horses, and ponies other than Shetlands. On Wednesday the exhibitions of jacks and jennies, breeding classes for trotting horses, Berkshire, Poland China and Duroc Jersey hogs, Southdown, Cheviot, Hampshire-Down and Suffolk sheep, while the horse show had the roadster stake, saddle and fine harness horse rings, with the contest for the best rider. Thursday's exhibition comprised the breeding classes for American saddle horses, rings for draft horses and Shorthorn cattle, while the chief feature of the horse show was the rings for five-gaited saddle horses, although there will be contests also for three-gaited saddle horses, and roadsters, and a runabout horse ring. On Friday the Jersey cattle exhibition, with classes for Shetland ponies, the $100 stake for three-gaited saddle horses, and rings for five-gaited saddle horses, and fine harness horses, and a ring for ponies other than Shetlands. Saturday was thoroughbred day, in which the breeding classes for thoroughbred horses brought out many of the famous former stars of the turf, which have been retired to the stud, as well as their youthful progeny, which will be the future great racehorses of the country. In addition there were rings for roadsters, the best girl driver under 12 years old, the best boy driver, plantation horses, fine harness horses including the aged and junior championships, three-gaited saddle horses and the Eldridge special prize for saddle stallion or mare 3 years old and under.

CITIZENS ARE SHOCKED

When It Is Learned That County Has 834 Illiterates.

Lancaster, Ky.—Garrard county citizens are much shocked by the recently published statistics in which this county was accredited with 834 illiterates within its boundary, a state of affairs that appeals for immediate attention, and the declaration has already gone forth that every child of school age, both white and black, is going to be in school the coming term, or the authorities will institute a rigid investigation.

ACREAGE CUT 20 PER CENT.

Only One Season For Setting Plants—Continued Drought Is Responsible.

Lexington, Ky.—According to reports received by the Burley Tobacco Society at its headquarters here, only 80 per cent of the average acreage of tobacco was planted in the white Burley district this year, and in many cases the growing crop is very thin on the ground, due to the fact that there was only one season for setting plants this year and that the long-continued droughts have killed a large per cent of what was set out. It is stated by the Burley officials that it is yet impossible to estimate the probable size of the crop as compared with former years at this time, as recent rains have in many sections materially improved conditions and it is yet possible that the yield per acre will approximate that of former years, although that is considered rather improbable.

It was a cash purchase and the property fronts the Lincoln Way, and is beautifully located for building sites. The property was surveyed and Mr. Bunker will begin the building of several new houses immediately.

LEXINGTON MAN WINS HONOR.

Maysville, Ky.—The 12th annual meeting of the Kentucky Trappers' association came to a close here after a two days' most successful meeting. Weather conditions were ideal, except for a slight wind, which made targets erratic. John H. Taylor, of Winchester, made high average of the meet, breaking 198 targets out of a possible 200. Woolfolk Henderson, of Lexington, was high amateur, breaking 190 targets and won the interstate championship by a score of 97.

STUDENTS AS JUDGES

Liberal Premiums Announced by J. J. Hooper, Superintendent.

Louisville, Ky.—For several years the Kentucky State fair has offered liberal premiums to young men of this state in judging live stock at the fair. The money premiums have grown year by year, and the practical nature of the instruction involved in this work has attracted the attention of practical stock breeders, who have contributed liberally towards the finances of the contest. Students or farm boys who expect to enter any of these contests should write to the secretary of the State fair Louisville, Ky., before September 1, at which time entries close. O. F. Floyd, the enterprising Woodford county farm agent, is coaching a group of farm boys for these contests. He believes his boys will be well prepared by the time of the fair. Other county agents will probably be represented also. This department of the fair is under the direction of Prof. J. J. Hooper, of the animal husbandry department of the State university, Lexington.

SHIPMENTS OF TOBACCO STOPPED

BY ORDERS FROM FOREIGN HOUSES TO BUYERS OF KENTUCKY.

CONSIGNMENTS TURNED BACK

Prices Not Expected to be Affected—Practically All Available Tobacco Has Been Sold.

Western Newspaper Union News Service. Louisville, Ky.—All export shipments of Kentucky leaf tobacco to Europe from the Louisville and other state markets have been ordered discontinued as the result of the war situation abroad. Consignments already en route to seaports were ordered turned back to await further word from the buyer. Prices will not be affected. Practically all available tobacco has been sold out. It is said stocks are lower than for years, and for the past several months the market has been very dull. In addition the planting is light. Kentucky exports of tobacco are chiefly for England, France, Spain, Norway, Austria, Russian and the west coast of Africa.

WARM FIGHT IS PROMISED

3,629 Names to the First Petition and 4,000 Signed to the Second.

In the presence of a good-sized crowd in the county court room petitions were presented by the "drys" requesting an election in Fayette county on September 28, and also calling for an election in the city of Lexington on the same date. The petition for a county election was brought into the court room by representatives of the local option league, and Senator J. T. Tunis as spokesman addressed the court, saying that he desired to submit a petition signed by 3,629 legal voters of Fayette county asking that an order be entered calling an election on the date desired.

KENTUCKY BREVITIES

Lancaster, Ky.—The honey crop throughout this section is proving unsatisfactory to bee handlers, the lack of white clover blossoms being in part the cause of the deficiency. One Garrard county farmer, who has given considerable attention to bees, reports that having as many as sixty hives he only extracted one pound from forty-five of them.

BIG STAGE ROBBERY

BANDITS HOLD UP COACHES IN YELLOWSTONE PARK.

Masked Man With Rifle Makes Tourists Dump All Their Money in Gunny Sack.

Mammoth Hot Springs, Wyo., July 31.—Two masked and armed highwaymen held up 20 stage coaches near Shoshone point, between the Thumb lunch station and Old Faithful inn, and robbed the passengers. The coaches, which had left Old Faithful inn all together on their way to the Lake hotel, belong to the Yellowstone Park Transportation company, the Yellowstone & Western Stage company, the Wylie Permanent Camping company, and the Shaw-Powell Camping company.

The passengers were requested to get off the stages by one of the highwaymen, who held a rifle and compelled them to deposit their "cash only" in a gunny sack which he had prepared for that purpose. The other bandit was stationed down the road a short distance to keep the last coaches from returning to Old Faithful inn and reporting the holdup.

The man who held the gun was about five feet eight, and weighed about one hundred and forty-five pounds. The other bandit was a larger man, but on account of his keeping in the timber, a good description could not be secured by the passengers.

Driver Frazier of the Yellowstone Western Stage company, who was the driver of the last coach leaving Old Faithful inn, on coming to the top of Shoshone point saw below him in the road the coaches all lined up and the passengers being robbed, and turned and beat a hasty retreat to Old Faithful inn, where he reported the holdup to the military authorities.

RAIL MEN TO STRIKE

FIFTY-FIVE THOUSAND WILL QUIT UNLESS ROADS YIELD TO DEMANDS.

LAST EFFORT BY PRESIDENT

Wilson Will Endeavor to Persuade the Western Railways to Accept Federal Mediation Board's Plan of Settlement.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—A strike of 55,000 engineers and firemen on 87 western railroads has been called for Friday, August 7, it was announced here by union officials, unless the railroads accept plan of settlement proposed by the federal board of mediation.

Washington, Aug. 3.—President Wilson will today make one final effort to bring about a peaceful settlement of the wage controversy between locomotive engineers and firemen and 98 railroads west of Chicago. The efforts of the United States board of mediation and conciliation have failed. For ten days the members have labored to bring employers and employees to an agreement to arbitrate their differences, and for the first time in the history of the board their efforts have come to naught.

On Wednesday the federal mediators, abandoning further hope, telegraphed to the president informing him of the seriousness of the situation. The president wired back inviting representatives of both sides to meet him today at the White House, when a last attempt will be made to bring about an agreement to arbitrate.

If the attempt fails union officials declare that a strike will be called which will mean the walkout of 55,000 engineers and firemen, affecting 160,000 railroad employees, and paralysis of central and western transportation in the United States and Canada.

William L. Chambers, commissioner of mediation, and Judge Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the board, left Chicago for Washington, and will lay before the president of the developments and facts of the meetings. G. W. W. Hanger, the other member of the federal board, remains in Chicago to keep in touch with the situation at that end.

The representatives of employers and employees are on the way for the capital. A. W. Trenholm, general manager of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, and chairman of the conference managers' committee, heads the railroad's representatives. Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, go to represent the men.

Ninety-eight railroads are involved, including practically every line in the country west of the Illinois Central north and south line, and lines in Canada west of Fort William.

Paris, Aug. 3.—The International Socialist congress, representing 12,000,000 workers, may call an international strike of the mining and transportation industries on account of the European war, according to a statement made here.

The congress, which is bitterly opposed to war, feels that such a threat may cool the ardor of those who want war, as a strike of this kind would tie up practically every railroad system on the continent and would force the closing of every industrial plant in a short time because of the lack of coal and steel.

Further than this, the tying up of the railroad systems would mean starvation for millions living inland who depend upon railroads to bring to them the largest portions of their food supplies.

Cancel Foreign Lumber Shipments.

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 4.—Cancellations of foreign lumber shipments are reaching the local exporters as rapidly as telegraph companies can deliver them. The foreign shipping industry is practically demoralized.

OBREGON TOO ACTIVE

TAKES CITY AND MAY HURRY TO THE CITY OF MEXICO.

Villa Worries Washington—Since He Left Saltillo He Has Been Lost Track Of.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Queretaro, the last stronghold of the federal forces north of Mexico City, has been captured by General Obregon, according to dispatches to the state department.

Unofficial reports indicate that Obregon will proceed at once to the Mexican capital. This is at variance with the Carranza-Carbal plan under which all the constitutionalist leaders would enter Mexico City at the same time.

The state department has lost General Villa and has been unable to get answers to its recent instructions to its agents in Mexico to discover his purposes and report to Washington.

The last authentic dispatch to the department was from one of the consuls, who declared that Villa had left the Carranza-Villa conference at Saltillo in bitter mood.

General Villa has no personal agent in Washington, but it is said that he suspects the close relations which have been brought about between the British Admiral, Sir Christopher Cradock, Carbal and Carranza.

Even officials in the state department are of the opinion that the resignation of Huerta, practically in favor of Carranza, through Carbal, was brought about when Sir Christopher Cradock visited Huerta just before the resignation at Mexico City.

GREAT FIRE IN SEATTLE

Docks and Other Buildings on Water Front Are Destroyed, the Loss Being $1,250,000.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 1.—A fire, which menaced many lives, with the possible death of two, and threatened the destruction of Seattle's entire waterfront, caused a property damage in excess of one million dollars.

Many people were hemmed in on wharves and in water front offices and a dozen were so hard pressed that they jumped into the bay, from which they were rescued by the United States revenue cutter Unalga and other vessels. It is reported two are missing.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company's pier, over seven hundred feet in length, and the Seattle port commission's ferry wharf were completely destroyed. The Coleman dock, from which about forty vessels of the mosquito fleet are operated, was so badly damaged that more than half of it will have to be rebuilt. Pier No. 2, owned by the Northern Pacific railway, also was damaged.
